

Flag Pole Dedicated In Lomita

A memorial flag pole and tablet honoring America's war dead was dedicated in Lomita during Memorial Day ceremonies last week.

Post 1622 of the Veterans of Foreign Wars conducted the ceremonies. The flag pole is located in front of the Mc-Nerney's Mortuary Chapel at 2342 Pacific Coast Hwy.

Presiding at the ceremonies was Harry K. Armast, commander-elect of the VFW post. John Flanagan, director of the mortuary, presented a flag to Armast.

Eleven-year-old Richard Fontano, a member of the Carson-Dominguez Crusader Club, was bugler for the raising and lowering of the flag. Robert Pospeshil, Donald MacPherson, Bernard King, and Harley Gray served as the color guard.

A black granite tablet at the base of the flagpole is inscribed: "To keep forever living the freedom for which they died, we dedicate these colors to our honored war dead. Memorial Day, 1967."

Vote Dividend

A 15 per cent stock dividend has been approved by shareholders of Security First National Bank at a special meeting in Los Angeles. The dividend will be paid to stockholders of record June 9.

SERVICE RECOGNIZED . . . Mrs. Frances Marchbanks (left), chairman of the Heart Fund volunteers, and Mrs. Myra Snow, Heart Fund volunteers, have been cited for contributing a total of 950 hours to Heart Fund work in the Torrance area. Both volunteers are active leaders in the Torrance Rebekah Lodge and have made the Heart Fund their project.

The Mail Ego

By Terrence O'Flaherty

"Is any of the cast of 'The Wizard of Oz' dead? If so, please tell me. Please include Toto the Dog."

That's the sort of question that can send you screaming into the underbrush. Well, let's see. Garland is still around and Bert Lahr (The Cowardly Lion) is still doing the potato chip commercials for TV. Ray Bolger, the Scarecrow, is alive and still dancing. Margaret Hamilton ("The Wicked Witch of the West") is a pillar of Beverly Hills family life. Jack Haley is alive (he was The Tin Woodman). I forget who played Aunt Em. Frank Morgan (the Wizard) is dead. Inasmuch as MGM rounded up all the mid-gets in show business to play the happy Munchkins, some of them are certain to have gone on. And considering that the movie was made 31 years ago, Toto is either dead or he's the oldest dog in Hollywood!

"My family liked the Juliet Prowse television series about the star who was married to the soldier. Will she be back on television or has she drifted off to the county fairs?"

She is busy now in Hollywood filming future guest appearances on the Dean Martin Show and the Carol Burnett Show. This fall she will star in "Sweet Charity" on the London stage. She has been playing a limited version of the show in Las Vegas.

"What's with 'The Young Americans'?"

This talented, non-profit bunch of young people is one of the nation's best advertisements and with the help of Bob Hope and others who have recognized their ability, they're certain to become familiar. This month they will represent the United States at Canada's "Expo '67."

"Please tell me the name of the announcer on the new Joey Bishop Show. I've watched it every night and just cannot understand the name."

No wonder. It's Regis Philbin — a name so bad that it must be his real one. He had his own show for the Westinghouse Broadcasting Network but was replaced by Merv Griffin. Philbin got his start in San Diego. He can be reached care of ABC Studios, Hollywood.

"No one will ever miss the Jean Arthur television show, but I will sure miss Ron Harper who played her son, the attorney."

You may miss him but not after September. The same company that has produced "Combat" successfully is now shooting "Garrison's Gorillas" in which Harper stars as the leader of a bold but undisciplined guerrilla squad in World War II. (Tuesdays on ABC.)

"While back there was a lot written about President Johnson's government radio and TV agency. What has developed since then?"

Johnson proposed the formation of a non-profit TV and radio corporation designed to provide high quality, commercial-free television programs. The Senate passed it on May 17 with a voice vote after the fear was quieted that it would turn into a government propaganda agency. It includes a $9 million grant effective in 1968 for five years.

"My family and I will be in Hollywood this summer and wonder what is the easiest way to get into a studio to watch the making of a television program."

The easiest way is to be the wife of the producer or the girl friend of the star. If you are neither of these, then try the Universal Studios in San Fernando Valley. They welcome guests, have elaborate, almost Disneyland facilities for them, and they charge for the tour. Predominant among Universal's TV series are "The Virginian," "Run For Your Life," and the NBC "World Premiere" feature films.

"I remember so vividly when Frances Langford entertained us overseas with the USO. I wonder if any of the young Hollywood stars of today are making such solo tours in Vietnam?"

According to the Hollywood Overseas Committee of the USO, only three actresses have made solo visits to Vietnam — and none of them are young: Martha Raye, Jennifer Jones, and Lana Turner. Others have made tours in

Licenses Revoked by County at Steak House

County licenses have been revoked for "Jimmy's Steak House" at 1221 W. Torrance Blvd., on recommendation of the Public Welfare Commission, reports Supervisor Kenneth Hahn.

The Board of Supervisors voted to revoke the public eating license, phonograph license, and two game licenses May 31 because of a lengthy record of police problems at this establishment between November, 1964, and January, 1967.

Hahn pointed out the restaurant has been closed since early in May when the holder of the licenses surrendered them to the Public Welfare Commission.

Hahn requested a full report on Jimmy's Steak House after learning of 56 separate police incidents and 40 arrests on or near the premises during the 26-month period. Approximately 15 of the incidents were of a felony nature, including at least one homicide and attempted homicides. Hahn also asked that the State Alcoholic Beverage Control revoke the liquor license for Jimmy's Steak House. That has been done. The sheriff has filed an action with the ABC requesting no future liquor licenses be issued at that location.

Guidance Clinic Needs Volunteers

A series of classes for volunteers interested in helping teachers launch a program in child observation and parents participation will be held this summer.

Those interested may sign up at the Volunteer Bureau for the South Bay Harbor, 2009 W. Carson Street.

Volunteers will be instructed in scientific supervision and child guidance procedures so that they might be of maximum help to the teachers.

Measles on Increase in Los Angeles

Health officials reported today that Los Angeles County is experiencing its worst outbreak of German measles since 1965.

Dr. B. A. Kogan, chief of acute communicable disease control division, said, "Two hundred and twelve cases of German measles were reported this week, an increase of 111 cases over the previous week's report. So far this year, 1,401 cases have occurred in Los Angeles County."

The illness caused by German measles is usually mild and the disease is considered serious only when it occurs in the early months of pregnancy, he explained.
